'From the start it has been the theatre's business to entertain people ... it needs no other passport than fun'

Bertolt Brecht A Short Organum for the Theatre

Greetings one and all!

This issue sees a first for our Theatre! We are going on tour – to Omokoroa. Why? Well, as everyone is so well aware, we don't, as yet, have a permanent home in Katikati and have been using whatever venues we can beg, borrow or steal.

Omokoroa has a hall which is very well used by the community and the management committee (partly at our instigation) have had some modular staging built and we offered to put on a performance to christen it.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL, which we put on in Katikati last December, has been chosen for this event as we had such great feedback. If anyone missed out last year, please don't be backward in coming forward for tickets this year. Diary date 7TH DECEMBER AT 7.30 pm. Tickets are now on sale at the Omokoroa Library – please give me a call if you'd like me to get some for you

Our performance of 'Come into the Parlour' in conjunction with the Museum and Mural Festival played to full houses on both nights. Whilst the venue was not the best in terms of having to deconstruct the set after rehearsals and performances, it gave us much food for thought in respect of possibly using it again. The Committee has taken on board the comments raised as regards visibility and will work towards a different seating format next time but in the meantime, we do ask you to accept our apologies if your enjoyment was not as it should have been

You may also be aware that our talented team of writers has now concluded the script for 'DR. JOE' which we are unashamedly holding back until we get a permanent home. The good doctor will doubtless have touched many of your lives and it will make a fitting tribute to a great character.

We'd like to take this opportunity of thanking you all for your support and look forward to seeing you at future productions
